Kansas Constitutional Election.

The vote on the adoption or rejection of the Kansas Constitution formed at Topeka, was to have been cast on the 15th. We are not among those who attribute that instrument but, as it is the best that could be had under the circumstances, we ought to, if we do not, wish for its adoption. The vote, owing to the late trouble, will be light; but that the Constitution will be adopted by an overwhelmingly majority, we have at once present- ed States, and Nebraska Rooting.

...ore between the Committee of Ohio, and C. M. Clay of Ky., the other day, discussing the propriety of holding an "Anti-Nebraska Consultation Meeting" at Pittsburgh, on the 22d of February. Our friends in Ohio and Indiana, without opposition, respond cordially; Wisconsin, too, is ready. Michigan and Iowa are yet to speak, but what they will say, we can all of us readily anticipate. Illinois! Illinois!

The Buffalo Express—a leading Anti-Nebraska Journal of New York—praises the meeting because of the want of a national organization, and of the absolute necessity of laying that organization. The how else shall Anti-Nebraska men act in concert? By what other means shall the different States be brought together? In what other way can we establish the Anti-Nebraska party? We feel confident that all the Free States and a number of the Slave States would be represented at such a meeting. Of the former there is no doubt, nor need there be any of Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Delaware, and possibly North-Carolina and Tennessee. Shall we have this Anti-Nebraska meeting? Shall our friends gather at Pittsburg, on Washington's Birth Day, Feb. 22, and organize for the conflict?

The Buffalo Express says:

The Pittsburg movement appears to offer the only feasible plan by which a National organization is to be perfected. We therefore give it our hearty support in this regard, with the hope that it may elicit discussion, produce a full interchange of views, and lead promptly to some action which will unite in the ranks for which the Republican party has been inaugurated. If we can devise better and more propitious way of accomplishing a National organization, we will urge that movement with equal energy, and if there is none—then let the Pittsburg's meeting be held, and the work be done. It will be attended by men from all the States in the Union who can come imbued with the principles of the country, humanity, and the love of our common country."

Most heartily do we second this call. Let us have the meeting!

Washington.

The Republicans stand firm in the Capitol. We care very little what may happen while this is so. Good, and good only, can come of it, and hence we say, let the glorious one hundred and one members of the House continue to act like heroes.

What the Republic wants now, and must have, is a resolute party. Such a party would drive into the hearts of the People, and hold them fast and firmly up to principle. It is a time for deeds, and if the Republicans would do them, if they would be regarded as acting in earnest, they must put on and keep on "the dauntless spirit of resolution."

No victory has yet crowned the North when struggling for freedom. The Slave Power of the South, by threats and device, by out-facing brags and daring expedients, has defied the Constitution, set aside rules, broken contracts, and carried every struggle. It is time to stop this. For the first time, threats and device, out-facing brags,
